Bubble Hockey by Chexx Ice Games

Bubble Hockey has long been one of my favorite games, and Chexx is the company that makes the best ones. They also make Bubble Soccer, but, of course, that doesn't hold the same appeal to this North American gamer. These are high quality, arcade style games that are the same kind of game you will find in your local ice rink or commercial arcade.

There are many options available when you order your Bubble Hockey table. We have some experience now selling these tables and we highly recommend the Split Base if you have any questions about your access (a narrow hall or stairway, or any concerns where you think you might have to turn it sideways to enter the room). It costs a little more, makes it easier to move, and much easier if there are access issues.

There are many choices at this point and these are the choices from the most important to, arguably, the least:

Miracle On Ice Edition: $500

NHL or Canada v USA: $500

Team Logo on Ice: $195

Skated Ice Surface $220

Arena Rink Floor Mat: $500

Split Base $225

LED $250

Cupholders $65

Coin-Op $350

ICE's name is Innovative Concepts in Entertainment, so you will find that they offer Special Editions such as the Rick Jeanneret Super Chexx Pro for $5,295 and the Super Chexx Pro NHL Special Edition for $4,277. They also have the Licensed NHL Stanley Cup Edition for 2020 still available for $5,160 prior to choosing options (LED, Mat, Split Base, etc.)

These games are collector's editions, and some people have several, though I recommend that you have a big room if you're going to collect them. The added benefit of playing bubble hockey is that you don't need a huge room; you just need a little length.

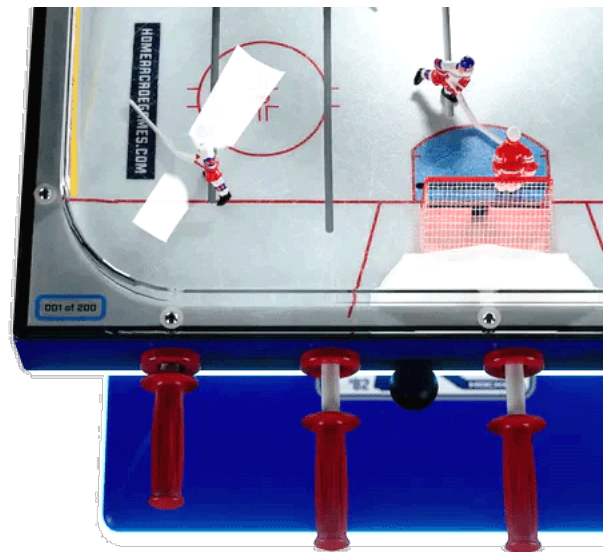

Each game will start with the national anthem of the chosen team, though you can move through that quickly if needed. The graphics on the screen in the bubble will keep your score and alert you to the end of your game periods.

The Anniversary Edition ($6,295) is celebrating the fact that ICE has been making bubble hockey games since 1972, and they have been New York. This is a great a quality product.

ICE makes a wide variety of games including ICE Ball (Skee-Ball) $6,495, Air FX Air Hockey with NHL themes, $6,195, and NBA Game Time Pro, $6,495. These are found below. We have some preferences for Valley Dynamo in the large Air Hockey domain and Skee-Ball in the Roller Ball domain, but most of these games are competitive with other brands. Prices are for base models.

We recommend 9' ceilings with the basketball game!

If you would like more information on any of these arcade games, there are options for each and pricing changes with each option. We are happy to put together a proposal for a game room which includes handling & white glove installation.
